

Invites you to its next forum featuring

Emrie De Vaal

‘To Test or Not to Test – What cognitive assessment will reveal about your child.’

Emrie is a New Zealand Registered Psychologist with a Masters degree in Educational Psychology. She is skilled in assessing cognitive abilities, as well as specific learning needs associated with dyslexia, attention difficulties and ASD. Emrie is dedicated to finding strategies and help that will enable children to reach their full potential, and is committed to supporting children and their families on this journey. Emrie has a special interest in the needs of gifted individuals, particularly gifted students with specific learning difficulties i.e. twice exceptional students.

Wednesday 6th August 2014
Alexander McMillan Room
Community House, Moray Place, Dunedin
7.30pm (doors open 7.15pm)

Cost: OAGC Members FREE Non-members: gold coin

Refreshments and snacks will be available after the talk